MONTANA ENCAMPMENT.

Large Gathering of Grand Army of the Republic Veterans at Livingston.

Commander-in-Chief Alger, of Michigan, Will Not be Present.

Tajor Maginnis and Col. Sanders Will be Missed—Court Proceedings at Boulder—Bozeman Goes Democratic.

LIVINGSTON, April 8.—[Special.]—The coming encampment and convention of the G. A. R. have begun to draw people to Livingston, and court also being in session now the streets are crowded already. The grizzled veterans with the button of bronze are perhaps the most numerous met pedestrians on the streets. There are crowds yet to come, however. The department commander, Col. Callaway, of Virginia City, will arrive to-night and take charge in person of encampment preparations. The council of administration will meet to-morrow and audit the accounts of the assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster generals. There will probably be little actual business done the first day. The committee on credentials will no doubt make a report, and perhaps the department officers. Comrades from Helena, Butte, Bozeman and western points will arrive on the 1 o'clock train to-morrow morning, while those from the eastern portion of the state will arrive at about 9 a. m. The encampment meetings will be held in Farragut Post hall, in the Miles block, which has been beautifully decorated for the occasion. The entertainment of the delegates will fall to the local corps, and about $1,000 has been subscribed for the encampment. To-morrow evening a grand banquet will be given by the Livingston post to visiting comrades at the Albemarle hotel. On Thursday, the last day, the Sons of Veterans will parade, and it is expected that the members of the G. A. R. will fall in the procession. The drum corps from Helena is expected, and the Sons of Veterans posts from Bozeman, Billings and Helena are also expected on the early morning trains. No order of business has yet been issued by Commander Callaway, but the election and installation of officers will occur on Thursday, the last day of the council of the veterans. On the evening of that day a grand ball will be given by the local Sons of Veterans post in Fowle's hall, to which everybody is invited. This will close the encampment. Commander-in-Chief Alger was expected here on the last day, but it is now feared he cannot come. Major Martin Maginnis and Col. W. F. Sanders were both invited to make speeches, but senatorial aspirations will prevent both from doing themselves that honor. Numerous business houses along both sides of Main street are beautifully decorated with flags, etc., and the city presents quite a holiday appearance.

Allen, clerk, W. F. Eilers, alderman first ward, E. S. Holmes, second, and H. D. Chaffin, third. The election was quiet and strictly non-partisan.

BOZEMAN REDEEMED.

The Democrats Capture That Republican Fort, Horse, Foot and Dragoons.

BOZEMAN, April 8.—[Special.]—H. A. Pease is elected mayor by 101 majority; King is elected marshal by 31 majority; Innes is elected attorney by 17 majority; Martin is elected police magistrate by 117 majority; Cargill is elected alderman of the Second ward by 17 majority, and McAdow, of the first ward, gets there again by a majority of 18 votes. The republicans scratched out with Wm. Alward, Peter Koeh, who beat Highsmith in the Fourth ward for alderman by one vote, and Willson for alderman of the Third.

The election of so many democrats to office was a great surprise. The town has been republican by a safe majority, but it begins to look as if it was changing its ways, as it shakes off its old garments and puts on the apparel of progress.

Big Theatrical Enterprise.

NEW YORK, April 8.—For some time efforts have been made in this city and the west to form a gigantic trust, which will take in at least one principal theatre in all the big cities throughout the country. The trust soon took in two theatres in San Francisco and one each in Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Seattle and Tacoma. The trust was further strengthened yesterday upon the arrival of Peter McCort in the city. McCort manages the Tabor Opera house in Denver, the opera houses in Leadville, Salt Lake and Pueblo. These houses McCort placed, after a conference with Charles Frohman, in the chain being formed by the trust. Hayman, the California manager, is now in London, where he is to open a booking office, so that English managers can readily secure time for attractions in this country at the head of the trust. The trust is said to be at work in this city, Boston and Philadelphia, and hopes to be represented in those places before many weeks.

Butte Wants the Northern Pacific.

BUTTE, April 8.—[Special.]—In a few weeks the Northern Pacific company intend to put on a second passenger train between St. Paul and Portland. The business men and citizens of Butte intend to petition the company to run one of these trains by way of Butte over the newly constructed Home State route and over the Montana Union to the main line at Garrison, as such an arrangement would accrue to the benefit of Butte.

GAMBLING IN FUTURES.

The Committee on Agriculture Reports Butterworth's Bill to Stop It.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The house committee on agriculture to-day reported to the house with amendments the Butterworth bill to define options and impose a special tax upon dealers therein, etc. An elaborate report was also submitted. In it the committee says the bill in terms does and is intended to apply to that class of transactions conducted in the bushelshops and grain pits of the country, known as "put" and "calls," including the whole range of mere speculative gambling in fictitious farm products. It does not affect injuriously any legitimate trader or dealer in farm staples. It seeks to, and does, impose an internal revenue tax upon those dealers in grain, cotton and pork who, as a rule, never see, own or handle a peck or a pound of the articles they deal in. It applies to dealers whose transactions have the least possible reference to supply, and still less reference to demand, for consumption, and yet who will sell in the bushel shops of the United States every month more wheat than is grown in the whole world in a year. It is urged, says the committee, that the influence of this bill will greatly hamper and restrict trade, but so far from the proposed measure affecting trade the exact reverse is true. The committee has no doubt of the constitutionality of the measure. It added an amendment to section 2 of the original bill, providing that the act shall not apply to any contracts or agreements for future delivery of any of said articles made with the United States, or with duly authorized officers or agents thereof, nor to contracts or agreements made by farmers for the sale and delivery of any of the articles aforesaid, which are in actual course of production by such farmers at the time of making such contract or agreement.

A LOCAL TORNADO.

Prophetstown, Illinois, Shaken Up by Wind and Hail.

PROPHETSTOWN, Ill., April 8.—An Associated Press correspondent who arrived here this afternoon finds that the early reports of last night's storm were grossly exaggerated. In the track of the storm, half a mile wide and a mile long, one elevator, three houses and several barns were wrecked and a number of other buildings slightly damaged. There were no fatalities. Edward Hammond, wife and child, and the family of Clark Reynolds were all painfully bruised and cut by flying debris but none of them are in a dangerous condition. The storm struck the town about 7 o'clock last evening and continued about ten minutes. The rainfall was two inches and hail was very heavy. The tornado was local, no other parts reporting it. The property damaged here will probably amount to $30,000.

Furious Windstorm in Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., April 8.—A cyclone struck Norwalk, O., about 5 o'clock this afternoon. The storm came from the northwest and swept a track about half a mile wide from the eastern limits of the city quite a long distance into the country. The umbrella factory of Sprague & French, in which about thirty young women were employed, was partially demolished. Many of the girls escaped, but others were caught. Dora Palmer, aged 19, received fatal injuries; Nellie Harding, Miss Brush and several others whose names are not given received injuries. A number of barns and other small buildings were wrecked, trees uprooted and fences torn down in all directions. At 7 o'clock another terrific storm visited the city, the wind blowing and hail stones as large as hickory nuts falling, smashing windows and demolishing green houses. Much damage by the storm is reported all around Norwalk.

Oberlin Flooded.

CLEVELAND, O., April 8.—A terrific rain storm visited Oberlin, O., to-night, flooding the cellars of business houses on College street to a depth of four feet. The water rose rapidly in Plum creek, and the people on the flat expect to be compelled to leave their homes before morning.

Hail at Roberts.

ROBERTS, Ill., April 8.—There was a tremendous hail storm here last evening. It continued about ten minutes and nearly all the window glass of west side houses was broken. A great many of the hail stones were of phenomenal size, two being picked up of seven ounces weight. Several people caught out in the storm were severely bruised by the tremendous shower of ice.

TWADDLE FROM SPOONER

The Wisconsin Statesman Goes Out of His Way to Attack Gov. Toole.

Republican Senators Dodge Senator Pugh's Arraignment of Their Methods.

Hoar Admits That the Helena Election Is a Strong Democratic Argument—Date of the Voting.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—When the senate resumed consideration of the Montana contested election case Spooner continued his argument in favor of the right of the republican claimants, Sanders and Power. Much of his speech was directed against Gov. Toole, of Montana, for his course in reference to the meeting of the legislature, and another large portion of it to show that aliens had voted who had merely declared their intention to become citizens, but were not fully naturalized, and were not entitled to vote and to have their votes counted. If the senate were to adopt the minority views and to seat Clark and Maginnis, it would seat men whose title depended on the votes of men not citizens of the United States, and no more entitled to vote than if they never had crossed the ocean.

Pugh argued in favor of the minority report. When he had spoken half an hour but two seats were occupied on the republican side of the chamber. George called attention to the fact and said the discussion was a very important one and suggested there was no quorum present. The presiding officer directed the clerk to call the roll and the result was that 39 senators, less than a quorum, answered. Harris moved that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to request the attendance of the absent senators. Agreed to. Gilbert moved to adjourn. Not agreed to; yeas 24, nays 25. The democrats voted in the affirmative and the republicans in the negative.

Butler having stated that Pugh was not well enough to continue the speech, it was agreed that the Montana election case should be laid aside for a day or two and the anti-trust bill taken up.

Voices were sent to the clerk's desk and had read a telegram from Helena, Mont., stating that the democrats had elected their mayor by 300 majority, and that the republicans, who usually had a majority of from 400 to 600, had carried only one ward.

Spooner's comment upon the telegram was, "that ought to settle it," and Hoar's was, "that is the strongest argument yet produced on the democratic side."

CARTER CAN'T UNDERSTAND.

The Democratic Victory in Helena Is a Power for Tom.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—[Special.]—The democratic victory in Helena, when announced in the senate by Voorhees, who read a telegram from that city, was the only event that created the least interest in the debate upon the Montana contest to-day. Otherwise the proceedings were exceedingly tame. The Montana republicans offered no explanation of the result. Mr. Carter said it was beyond his comprehension, while Col. Sanders said he knew why the result turned out as it did, but did not propose to give away the secret. A. J. Seligman, who started home some time ago but unexpectedly turned up again, and Commodore Power had nothing to say on the subject. The democrats in the senate offered the news as meaning that the people were rebuking the election methods of last fall and the plan of the republicans to seat two United States senators.

Senator Spooner said sarcastically, when the telegram was read, that he supposed that settled it, while Senator Hoar thanked Voorhees for offering the best argument for the democratic side that had thus far been presented. It is expected that a vote will be reached on Thursday or Friday. Neither side has yet convinced any senator of the opposition party that his side is in the wrong. Sanders and Power will be seated.

Three Buildings for Washington.

Senator Squire put in a large share of the afternoon to-day laboring with the members of the house committee on public buildings and grounds, urging them to report to-morrow the bills for sites in Washington. Spokane has already been reported, and Seattle, Tacoma and Walla Walla are still with the subcommittee. It is probable that Walla Walla will be left out by the house committee, and the three largest cities in the state recognized.

To Prepare a Silver Bill.

Pursuant to the opinion of the conference of republican senators, the committee of thirteen republican senators met to-day and entered upon the work of preparing a silver bill, if possible, that shall command the support of a majority in the senate.

National Capital Notes.

The house committee on judiciary completed Tuesday the consideration of the Foran bankruptcy bill and ordered it reported favorably, with some amendments. The committee also ordered a favorable report on Henderson's bill amending the internal revenue laws.

A postoffice was to-day established at Olga, San Juan county, Washington, with Richard Stone postmaster.

W. W. Warden died to-day at Providence hospital, aged 69. He came to Washington in 1862 as correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and was Andrew Johnson's private secretary during the latter's presidential term. Later he resumed newspaper work.

Representatives McClummy and Morgan united in a minority report in opposition to the compound land bill reported by the house committee on agriculture. The minority did not feel that there was any possible justification for the proposed legislation. If the bill should benefit the farmers, as claimed, it would benefit the farmers of the west at the expense of the farmers of the south.

The special agents of the general land office working in the Dakotas, Montana, Washington and the northwestern states who were retired March 16 without pay, have been ordered to continue work until April 10. They were retired for lack of appropriations with which to pay them until provisions were made by the passage of the deficiency bill.

Senator Romero, the Mexican minister, was asked what truth there was in the published report that a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Mexico had been virtually agreed upon. "I have heard nothing of any such treaty," he said.

The house committee on elections has appointed a sub-committee to visit Arkansas and collect testimony relative to the contested election case of Clayton vs. Breckenridge in the Second district, and also the alleged assassination of Clayton.

Congressman Randall's family say he is not in a critical condition; he is somewhat better than he was last week.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate Passes the Anti-Trust Bill—Busy Day in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Among bills reported in the senate and placed on the calendar are the following: Senate bill to amend the interstate commerce act; house bill approving, with amendments, the funding act of Arizona; senate bill for a commission to determine the northern boundary of the Warm Springs Indian reservation, Oregon. Edmunds introduced a joint resolution, which was referred, directing the librarians of congress, the senate, the house and the department of justice, respectively, to deliver extra or duplicate copies of law books to the law department of Howard university. He said he had heard with astonishment that a law school in the District of Columbia, connected with a college that existed under authority of the United States, had deliberately and on consideration refused to allow a person of some African blood, and in every respect a gentleman of extraordinary ability, to attend its law lectures on account of his having African blood in his veins. Howard University had also a law department, and he introduced the resolution so that law books not needed for public service might be donated to Howard University, and that that portion of their fellow citizens who were denied equal rights in other universities in the District might have a chance to learn some law.

Call offered a preamble and resolution, which went over, reciting the published newspaper statements as to the packing of juries in the northern district of Florida, and instructing the judiciary committee to take evidence. Vest offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the president for a copy of the reports in relation to the propriety of distributing funds received from the Mexican government on account of the Weil and Laabra awards. The senate then took up the anti-trust bill reported from the judiciary committee. After some debate, it passed—72 to 1.

Through the Colville Reservation.

The house to-day passed Representative Wilson's bill granting the right-of-way to the Spokane and Northern railway across the Colville Indian reservation in Washington. The location must be approved by the secretary of the interior and all rights of the Indians must be preserved, and no interference made with their irrigating ditches. The company must build its line through the reservation within three years after the passage of the act. The company is obliged to execute a bond of $10,000 to be paid the Indians in case any of them or their stock are killed. The building of the road is of great importance to the people of eastern Washington.

The house commerce committee reported favorably Representative Hermann's bill for a light-house at the mouth of Coquille river in Oregon.

GROWING SMALLER.

The Number of Chinese Getting Beautifully Less by Degrees.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—In response to the senate resolution calling upon Secretary Windom for a statement of the number of arrivals and departures of Chinese at San Francisco annually, since Aug. 2, 1882, and any information respecting evasions of the law for the exclusion of Chinese laborers, the secretary to-day transmitted a tabulated statement giving the desired information. The annual arrivals range from 11,000 to 14,000; departures, 11,000 to 15,000. In 1889, after the passage of the act, 835 arrived and 3,672 departed. Of 611 persons who arrived during the six months ended Dec. 31, 1889, twelve were actors, two clerks, one cook, ten druggists, two goldsmiths, 494 merchants, two mining engineers, 491 pawnbrokers, three physicians, ten shoemakers, forty-seven students and 241 with no occupation. Of these, 221 were females. Secretary Windom says in respect to evasions of the law for the exclusion of Chinese laborers, that violations appear to consist mainly of the use of fraudulent certificates and smuggling across the northern frontier of laborers.

To Defraud Lo.

TALENT, Ark., April 8.—The Indian Arrow, a newspaper of this city, publishes charges that John W. Wallace, disbursing agent of the interior department, has conspired to defraud the Shawnee and Delaware Indians and freedmen in the strip of the government annuity soon to become due, about $75,000. It is also charged that Wallace has identified himself with the gang that planned the enrollment of several thousand negroes from other states in citizenship to annuity. This would necessitate, the Arrow says, the appropriation of fully $150,000 more annuity than required. Cherokee officials are going to have an investigation.

Southern Pacific Directors.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—The election of directors of the Central Pacific railroad company occurred to-day. There was no opposition to the regular ticket, which included Leland Stanford, C. P. Huntington, C. F. Crocker, C. E. Bretherton, A. N. Towne, Timothy Hopkins and E. H. Miller, Jr. The stockholders of the Southern Pacific company will meet to-morrow, when Senator Stanford's resignation as president will be presented and his successor elected.

To Extend a Railroad.

THE REPUBLIC OF BRAZIL

Preparing for the Adoption of a Constitution Like America's.

Her Statesmen Accept the Teachings of Our Experience and History.

A Republican Form of Government, Guaranteeing Civil and Religious Liberty—Educational Qualification.

RIO JANEIRO, April 8.—The provisional government having decreed all great popular measures so long demanded by the people, such as the abolition of slavery (forced from imperial government in 1888), separation of the church from the state, freedom of the press, liberty of worship, secularization of public cemeteries, naturalization of foreigners, etc., is now trying to avoid the danger and inconvenience that attended the adoption of the American constitution. The men now at the head of affairs desire to begin where the United States finished, and so take advantage of American experience. For this reason they have nominated a number of well-known specialists to frame a constitution which is to be presented to a constitutional assembly. The work of registering voters, (all men of 21 years of age who know how to read and write) is being pushed rapidly. The framers hope to present a constitution as much like the American constitution as is consistent with the character of Brazilian people. It will then be submitted to a direct vote of the people. It is already partially completed. It declares the fatherland one and indivisible; the republic is composed of states, federal districts, provinces and territories; its government is representative, and federal and republican; each state shall be governed by its own laws and the federal government shall interfere only for the purpose of guaranteeing a republican form of government, the sanction of sentences of federal courts, and in case of rebellion. Provinces are to be regularly organized political bodies that require pecuniary assistance from the federal government. Territories are the unorganized and uninhabited parts of the empire. The federal districts will consist of any municipality that may be chosen for a federal capital.

The most important recent event was the resignation in a body of the Rio Janeiro municipal intendancy in consequence of a decree subjecting certain of its acts to the approval of the government. The new intendancy, headed by Dr. Amarel, has made an excellent impression by suspending the code of municipal laws framed by the old board, and which had given great dissatisfaction. Secretary of State Mairia has sent circulars to all ministers and consuls possible in South America, certainly in Brazil, requesting information in regard to means of American trade with their locality. If American trade is to make headway in Brazil, great improvement in the mail service is demanded. This service is now very bad.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

Trades Unions Advocated at Berlin—Conditions of the Code in Germany.

BERLIN, April 8.—At a meeting of workmen held at Alten today, 247 delegates, representing 120,000 workmen were present. Resolutions were adopted favoring the formation of trades unions and accident insurance funds, and calling for an amendment to the factory laws. It is stated that Emperor William will appoint a court of honor to deal with the corrupt business officers of the navy. The emperor will only permit a duel for a blow or an insult to a lady relative or fiancée, when the offender refuses to apologize.

Foreign Flashes.

The Rappal says the decree pardoning the Duc d'Orleans will be issued to-morrow. The subject was under discussion at the cabinet meeting this morning.

The czar has entirely recovered and will return to Gatchina April 20. Officials of public instruction and the police made inquiry into the recent riots among the students at the Technological Institute. Twenty-eight students will be expelled from St. Petersburg.

At Manchester the Jubilee handicap hurdle race was won by Ben Hur.

The appeals in behalf of Richard Davies, an 18-year-old boy, who with his brother George, aged 16 years, was sentenced to death for the murder of his father at Crews, England, were unavailing. The prisoner was hanged. The younger brother was last week granted a reprieve.

Slonson and Schaefer Both Win.

CHICAGO, April 8.—In the billiard tournament this afternoon the first game was between Ives, of Chicago, and Catton, of St. Louis, the former playing 275 to the latter's 250. Score: Ives, 275, average, 13 1/2; best run 63; Catton 253, average, 11 1/4; best run, 46.

The second game was between Schaefer and Heiser, Schaefer to make 500 to his opponent's 250. The first inning Schaefer played beautiful billiards and made a run of 87. After that he played listlessly, evidently being sure of the game and the exhibition was tame. Heiser was playing in hard luck and extremely nervous. Score: Schaefer 500, average 163, best run, 87, 72, 56, 44; Heiser 142, average 4 25-29, best run 15.

The evening game was between Slonson and Daly. The former winning easily. Daly's play was poor. Score: Slonson 580, average 21 17-23, best run 76, 64, 43 and 42; Daly 125, average 5 5-22, highest run 26.

By Good Majorities.

BERMACK, N. D., April 8.—[Special.]—The democrats carried yesterday's city election by good majorities. Isaac P. Baker, the first democratic mayor, was elected by a majority of two to one over Oscar Will, republican, whom the anti-slavery forces placed in nomination. Of twelve successful candidate seven are democrats.

A Stand-Off at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—The municipal election was held to-day for city officers, speaker of the upper house and members of the city council. The issue was strictly local, and the election was held under the Australian system, which went into effect to-day. The system was a decided success; there was not a single arrest for disorderly conduct or drunkenness, and no attempt at illegal voting. The clause of the law governing registration caused an increase of one-third over last presidential election in the list of voters.

The democrats elected the mayor, treasurer and city attorney; the republicans elected the auditor and speaker of the upper house. Michael J. Boland, republican, noted as a member of the Clan-na-Gael triangle, was defeated in the race for the police judgeship by Wheeler, democrat. The councilmen and aldermen were about evenly divided. At Carrollton, Mo., the democrats scored a decided victory; at St. Joseph and Houseville the republicans swept everything.
